

Cologne Summer School on Environmental Studies

University of Cologne - From July 13 - 31, 2015

Program

This high-quality classroom and practice summer program is run by professors of the University of Cologne and close partners who are specialists working in the environmental sector of the region North Rhine- Westphalia.

Who are we looking for?

Are you an advanced BA student or MA student in your first year in any discipline and strongly interested in environmental issues, send your application, and demonstrate your curricular and extra-curricular activities in this field.

As a participant of this program you will get both theoretical knowledge and a hands-on experience, focusing on three key sectors for sustainable cities. So, roll up your sleeves, join the excursions, learn the advanced German public transportation system from the inside, experience Cologne's urban green spaces with the experts and see how solid waste can be sustainably profitably managed.

The idea of the program is to understand and solve environmental problems and research environmental issues by fostering multidisciplinary and multi-national education and thinking. As the global aspects of human actions and environmental problems such as the sustainability of big cities become more important, we exclusively invite students from our partner institutions world-wide. The difference in experience and background of the participants is a resource for enhanced understanding and vital discussions.

Application deadline

April 1, 2015

How to apply

By sending all required application documents. Please check the Cologne Summers Schools' website at: <http://www.colognesummerschools.uni-koeln.de>

Costs

As a student who has been nominated by the International Office or the faculty of her/his home university and has been chosen for the participation by the selection committee of the University of Cologne, you have to pay no tuition fees for the summer school. Furthermore the University of Cologne pays for your accommodation, public transportation ticket and the excursions.

You have to bear the following costs:

- travel costs to Germany and visa costs
- insurance plan (compulsory, € 69 once)
- meals and incidental expenses

We look forward to sharing your environmental spirit!

