

Become a Bright Solar Ambassador: Earn Money Selling Solar

Are you an entrepreneur at heart? Do you love the idea of spreading clean energy in your community? We're recruiting ten top students to get free solar industry training and become Bright's Solar Ambassadors. In this role, you will offer solar projects at no upfront cost to potential customers in DF while building your resume.

About Bright

Bright makes it easy to go solar in Mexico. We help homeowners cut their light bill in half for $0 down. We're able to do this by working with financiers to understand the consumer and proposed solar project in ways not previously possible with typical credit data. We take pride in our delightfully simple process and our relentless focus on homeowner savings and service.

What does a solar ambassador do?

- Find homeowners that can benefit from rooftop solar installations (i.e. homeowners who spend more than $2,500 MXN per bimonth on their CFE bill. These are known as DAC 1 customers)
- Explain the benefits of "going solar" at no upfront cost and introduce interested DAC 1 customers to our Energy Consultants

About you

- You're a self starter: you can identify priorities and take initiative to execute on them
- You have access to (or ideas on how to access) a large network of DAC 1 homeowners
- You're passionate about making the world a better place by spreading cheap, clean energy

What's in it for you?

Unique Training and Career Development + Compensation

- Three day course on solar finance, engineering, and sales + site visits with our trained installers
- $3,000 MXN per project sold
- The opportunity to make a tangible difference in your community and the world

How to Apply:

Please fill out the brief application form here. If you have any questions, please email embajador@thinkbright.co. Thanks for your interest in helping Mexico embrace solar energy!
